SENIOR RECOGNITION MOST EFFECTIVE YET

President Emery Sees Value to Lower Classes in Day

HEAR MUNICIPAL TALK

The second annual observance of Senior Day was held Wednesday, March 12. The Seniors officially opened the day by presiding at the regular Assembly. The program was opened with three songs by the Girls Glee Club: "Little Papoose," "Oh, Lovely Night," and "Will-o-the-Wisp."

Maynard Van Dyke, a Junior, acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the members of the Senior class with short but characteristic descriptions. Harry White, president of the class gave an address of thanks to the faculty and student body. Miss Leah Daubenheyer, also a member of the Senior class, gave two humorous readings. The program was closed with three selections by the Boys' Glee Club.

The second event of the day was a luncheon at the "Jack and Jill" Tea Room. President and Mrs. Emery, Dean G. W. James, Mrs. Rene Stevens and Mrs. Mildred Gearhart were guests of the Senior class. After the luncheon the Seniors attended the Orpheum. During one of the vaudeville acts, the Seniors received "some free publicity" and a deal of entertainment.

The celebration was concluded with a formal reception at the University Club, given by the Faculty and the Junior Class. President Emery acted as toastmaster and introduced the entertainers. Miss Marjorie Smith presented two violin solos and the male quartette composed of Charles Gardner, Phil Rickabaugh, Joe Wandscheer and Bruce Gideon sang several selections. Mr. W. F. Baxter, manager of Thomas Kilpatrick, spoke on the relation of Seniors to the new Municipal University. Herbert Fischer represented the Alumni Association and Dean James closed the program with an address entitled "The Beginning of the Beginning." Music was furnished by the University Orchestra.

Dr. Emery said, "The Second annual observance of Senior Day was a complete success. The entire program throughout the day caused the eyes of the whole institution to be turned on the Seniors. The establishment of this custom is one that should be continued as the institution grows and should be very effective in showing the undergraduates the importance of graduation. I desire to express my appreciation to everyone who had a part in making the day a success. I am decidedly proud of the fact that the graduating class this year promises to be the largest graduating class in the history of the University."

Nebraska Daily Discloses Sorority View Of Typical College Boy as Irresponsible

Sorority members at the University of Nebraska have compiled a picture of the "typical" college boy, in response to a questionnaire sent out by the Daily Nebraskan. He is irresponsible, conceited, nonchalant, and dumb, so the report states. He affects pipes, sport coats, and knickerbockers, and makes it his business to look as disreputable as possible. Wise cracks are one of his specialties, but he redeems himself by being extremely democratic in nature. But the ladies don't like anything about him—no indeed. Here are some of the prejudicial remarks which the questionnaire revealed.

Leah Daubenheyer Retains Lead in Vote For Miss Gateway which Closes Friday

Our Compliments! Voting on Miss Gateway for 1930 has mounted so fast that we are thinking seriously of borrowing a city election box to hold the ballots! Again we say, come one, come all. This issue offers the last chance to vote. All ballots must be turned in by high noon, Friday, March 21. If one of the "wise guys" succeeds in destroying your Gateway again this week, turn in a slip of paper with your candidate's name on it.

Don't forget to sign your own name. Several votes have been thrown out because of failure to do this. And again, don't vote more than once this week. Twenty-three ballots were turned in and discarded for this reason. If you feel the urge to be funny and vote for some Aunt Emmy, do so by all means. But don't change your mind and vote for somebody else the next day.

Miss Leah Daubenheyer, Pi Omega Pi sorority president, is still in the lead.

Miss Bess Sturrock, Phi Delta Psi, lacks ten votes to tie for first. Miss Marjorie Darling, Sigma Chi Omicron, is pushing the leaders, but lacks nineteen votes to tie Miss Daubenheyer.

Miss Helen Johnson, Freshman Barbarian, is trailing Miss Darling by ten counts.

Miss Florence Wood, Kappa Psi Delta, is still in the contest.

Miss Corrine Ann Jensen, Sigma Chi Omicron, is still in the contest.

AH THERE, EDITOR: Here again is my vote for Miss Leah Daubenheyer. She's a sure thing to win! Don't spill this name. Signed.....

Everybody can vote for anybody. Contest closes at noon, Friday, March 21. Winner will be announced on March 26, and how!!!!!! A silver loving cup will be presented to Miss Gateway, 1930, during the assembly period, March 26. The cup has been procured through arrangement with Ye Diamond Shoppe.

Education Department Graduates 24 Seniors

Twenty-Five Two Year Students Will Complete Work

Of thirty-six seniors graduating from the University of Omaha in June, twenty-four are either teaching or planning to teach. Four will teach music. The others will teach academic work in elementary or high schools. Some twenty-five two year students will also complete work in the elementary and primary departments.

Practice teaching has been done and is being continued in the public schools of Omaha. Primary and elementary practice work is done in the grade schools of the city while the practice in the high school section has been chiefly at South High School.

Several graduates have already secured teaching positions in and about the city.

HAMMER DEBATE JUDGE

Professor Irwin Hammer was a judge at a debate held on Saturday night, March 15, at the Hotel Paxton, between the America Institute of Banking of Omaha and the Minneapolis chapter of the same organization. The Omaha squad won the decision.

OMAHA MEETS COTNER TEAMS THIS FRIDAY

Win One, Lose One, in Dual Debate With Wesleyan

The University of Omaha affirmative talkers on the debate squad journeyed to Wesleyan university on Saturday evening, March 15, where they won a three to nothing decision over the debaters there. The Wesleyan affirmative squad succeeded in taking a similar decision away from Omaha on the home campus at the same time.

Omaha has not lost chances for championship and will have one more try when the Cotner university squad comes on the campus on Friday night, March 21, to do talk on the armament question. The Omaha affirmative team will remain home to meet the negative Cotnerites while the local negative squad goes to Cotner to debate the affirmative talkers there.

The local debate is scheduled to be held in the Conservatory of Joslyn Hall at eight o'clock.

DEBATE MIX-UP HERE

By Walter E. Schroeder
Law School Correspondent

According to verbal, written and press notices, a debate (commonly known as an argument) was to be held on the Omaha campus between Wesleyan university and some Law students at eight o'clock, Saturday evening, March 15. Accordingly, some glib members of the general public, at large, journeyed out to Twenty-Fourth and Pratt to hear the fiery outbursts from both bodies. They were greeted with the scene of a darkened auditorium. The debate manager arrived on the campus with a few Law students, picked at random, and proceeded to become warm under the collar in his search for the school janitor who should have the means for admittance. One faculty member was located (Continued on page 3)

CHORUS ANNOUNCED FOR "JERICHO ROAD"

North High Students Procured By Miss Mary Silver

CAST HAS 24 OMAHANS

The singing chorus in the operetta, "Jerry of Jericho Road", has been officially announced by Mrs. Nell Griscom Gillard, director. This chorus representing tourists, ghosts, and masqueraders is composed of twelve girls and twelve boys. The training of the chorus will be under the direction of Miss Gretchen Kramer.

While the ghost chorus is singing off stage, a group of boys from North High school will be acting. This group is composed of John Kane, Joe Scarpa, Claude Cady, Harry McCormack, Nick Nelson, Karl Wolf Troy Woerner, and Robert Savage. These boys recently appeared in leading roles of the operetta at North High School. Mrs. Mary Silver was instrumental in procuring the added talent.

The singing chorus will be composed of the following: Girls—Ada Baumann, June Pickard, Dorothy Manger, Louise Woepel, Ellouise Jetter, Helen Mosher, Elizabeth Chase, Caribeth McGill, Ruth Musil, Mildred Gibson, Pauline Peters, and Marjorie Lyle; Boys—Charles Gardner, Kenneth Hubler, Cecil Pellisser, Howard Hansen, Bruce Gideon, Elgin Bray Robert Streltweiser, Lewis Leeder, Harold Bastrom, Rex Carden, Royal Hipwell, and Gordon Quiller.

ISSUE 1930 BULLETIN OF SUMMER CLASSES

Tour to Europe Outstanding Feature of the Courses

The University of Omaha bulletin for Summer School classes, 1930, has been issued to prospective students, according to President Emery. The total number of students enrolled in the classes during the summer of 1929 was 367, the office report reads.

"We are receiving inquiries every day and indications are that the enrollment this year may be above normal," stated Miss Elizabeth Barnes, registrar. County superintendents of schools have been sending in requests for bulletins which give the (Continued on page 3)

Students Hear Talk On Old Civilization

Mr. Kent Morgen from Salt Lake City, Utah, gave an illustrated lecture at Omaha University, Friday, March 14, on the old American Civilization in Central America, showing immense remains of the old Maya Civilization in Yucatan and other places of Central America.

He favored the theory that the remains come from a people that are the descendants of Joseph, the son of Jacob. "Some of these ruins," he said, "exceeded the area of Chicago in extent." This is the place where Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh visited on their recent good will air tour to South America.

LUTHERAN CONFERENCE OPENS AT DANA COLLEGE

The Northwest Region of the Lutheran Students of America will hold its annual Conference at Dana College, Nebraska, March 21-23. Outstanding leaders of the Lutheran Church will address the Conference which is open to Lutheran students. All Lutheran students are cordially invited to attend the Conference. Reservations should be made not later than March 18.

CALENDAR

Wednesday, March 19—Superintendent J. H. Beveridge of the Omaha Public Schools will speak at assembly.

Friday, March 21—Assembly program will be in charge of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets. Debate with Cotner university in the Conservatory at eight o'clock.

Wednesday, March 26—Mayor Metcalfe of Omaha will speak at assembly.

March 25 Final Date For Student Entry in Constitution Contest

The University of Omaha may enter the 1930 National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. Announcement of the contest and the conditions have been received by Allan Cohen member of the Debate Squad.

P. Caspar Harvey, the director of the contest, announced this week that he had already received entries and inquiries from 152 colleges and universities in 39 different states. He also announced that the entries close March 25, and that an entry which bore a postmark later than March 25 would not be admitted to the competition. All communications concerning this contest should be sent to Liberty, Mo.

The wide range of the interest in the 1930 contest is shown by the fact that inquiries have already been received from Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, and Cornell in the East, from the Universities of Florida, Alabama, and Texas in the South, from Northwestern and the University of Minnesota in the North, and from Stanford and the University of Oregon in the West.

Colleges and universities need not choose their representatives until April 15. The regional and state contests will take place April 24—May 3; the seven zone contests will take place May 18—May 30, and the national final contest at Los Angeles will be June 19, where the grand prizes will total $5000.

Drama Students Give "Escape" at Assembly

Hope Welburn Directs Cast of Five Students

The Dramatic Production Class of the University of Omaha presented a one act play entitled "Escape" at assembly on Friday, March 14. The play was written by Theodore Pratt and directed by Miss Hope Welburn.

The cast of characters was as follows: John Windwood, Maynard Van Dyke; Mary, his daughter, Marie Knuth; Hugh, his son, Kenneth Jensen; Walter Pembroke, Fred Widoe; and Jim Hilder, N. K. Woerper.

The presentation was well received by a large assembly audience. Dramatic critics have been warned against expressing themselves concerning the play, according to members of the cast.

Like to Appear in Print? A Few Do and a Few Don't; Writers Fall Editor

After having lost several friends all on account of this column, the inquiring reporter decided that it was about time to ask if people really enjoyed seeing their names and some brilliant remark in the limelight. In other words the question this week was "How do you like to appear in print?" And as the managing editor advised—this question did take a lot of fact. It is not a question that could be asked just anyone with out having the correct atmosphere, and the poor reporter became shy when approaching the numerous persons on the campus. It was thought much more information would be gathered from persons who have had the

CITIZENS PLEDGE AID TO UNIVERSITY

W. F. Baxter Again Tells Value and Forms Organization

SMITH IS CHAIRMAN

Advancing the cause of a municipal university in Omaha, a representative gathering of citizens pledged their support to the campaign organization formed at the conclusion of a public mass meeting held on Friday night, March 14, at the court house. Robert Smith, clerk of the district court, was named chairman of a nominating committee to complete details of the organization.

W. F. Baxter repeated the cultural and business benefits that will be gained when citizens favor the establishment of a municipal university on voting at the polls May 6.

Challenges Economic Debate

"I challenge anyone on the economic argument alone for the need of the school. Unless support is given this movement, twenty years of effort on the part of University of Omaha backers will be lost. We can stick to the one-mill levy and let the money accumulate, using it as it is needed for the school. A bond issue should never be necessary."

Mr. Baxter again stressed the fact that a municipal university in Omaha at the present time when it is needed should be considered as an "investment." He stated that it would eventually bring into Omaha from three to four times the income of any other municipal institution, and cited figures from the municipal university of Cincinnati to show that its yearly income to the city at the present is 473 thousand dollars.

Headed by Mr. Smith, the preliminary committee appointed by the chairman, Max I. Walker, includes Harry Byrne, J. M. Gibb and Harry Knapp. The group opened offices on March 15 at room 617 City National Bank building.

Principal J. G. Masters of Central high school said that a municipal university would prove a boon to Omaha youths who would otherwise (Continued on page 3)

Engineers Instructed By County Assistant

G. P. Dorsey, assistant county surveyor, instructed pre-engineers in the use of the transit in surveying work on Wednesday afternoon, March 12. To illustrate the practical use of the instrument the students followed the methods used in surveying a square on the campus. By taking the elevation of the sun and its relation to the North Pole through study of a chart, Mr. Dorsey enabled students to determine time and the accuracy of Standard Time.

Mr. Dorsey was brought to the campus through the efforts of Professor J. W. Kurts, instructor of the class. Thirty students are enrolled in the class.

pleasure of seeing themselves in print at least once a year since they would be able to speak from a vast amount of information that would otherwise not be gained by just asking persons who appear every week. The first person the reporter contacted was the one author of "The Debate" which will be found on page 1. He looked suspiciously at the reporter and asked about the "Hot War" the reporter had had a column in. "Well, why were you so weak when you were asked for material in an issue?" ## Omaha Dean of Women Talks at Local Clubs

Mrs. Rene Stevens has appeared as the principal speaker at a number of organization meetings. On Friday, February 28, Mrs. Stevens gave a speech on the "Evolution of the Tourist Third," before the Catholic Daughters of America. At an Americanism meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion the following Monday, she presented an address on the topic "Immigrants at Home and Abroad." On March 7, she appeared before the North Side Women's Club on "Present Trends in Education."

who said he, he the noble one, would hurry and save the day, or rather the night. He, too, left the squad of tongue-tied orators in the lurch.

Keys were forcibly removed from the person of our President but, alas and alack, not a key would answer the purpose of the evening. Meanwhile, our chairman, the judges, and the visiting team had begun to arrive and fretted and fumed for admittance. Finally out of the midst of our would-be audience, one, W. F. Schilder, offered the use of the Pearl Memorial Methodist church, of which he is a trustee.

At this juncture, the Wesleyan debaters started a little informal debate with our manager by refusing to debate, contending that they had been at the appointed meeting place on schedule time; that we had not been ready and thereby they were entitled to a forfeit. After much pleading, the debate was started under the protest from Wesleyan. The debate ended with the decision three to nothing, in their favor.

With Dr. Emery

March 6, President Emery attended the regular meeting of the Psychology Club at the home of Dr. I. A. Hammer.

Dr. Emery attended the meeting at the courthouse in connection with the Municipal University, Friday evening, March 14.

Monday forenoon, March 17, Dr. Emery attended the meeting of the Omaha Ministerial Union and following that the regular meeting of the Omaha Council of Churches.

Dr. Emery filled the pulpit of the M. E. Church, Fortieth and Ames Avenue, for the morning services, Sunday, March 16.

Sunday, March 23, Dr. Emery will speak at the Grace M. E. Church, 26th and E. Streets, on his experiences while a missionary in Africa.

Cites New Tendencies In Primary Education

Miss Francis Wood Shows Change In Home Life

Miss Francis Wood, Director of Primary Education, presented a talk on the University hour from W. O. W. last Wednesday. The topic of her talk was "New Tendencies in the Education of the Young Child." She stated that any discussion of school procedure brings out the fact that new tendencies are constantly appearing in the department that cares for the young children. This is evidence that thinking people are alive to the importance of this period in the child's life and to the need of a better understanding of child development. The period under consideration in this discussion was that from two to eight or nine years of age or those years spent in the Nursery School, Kindergarten or Primary grades.

Miss Wood proceeded to say that there are three changes in society that effect the young child. First the fact that the home organization has changed; therefore the child no longer has a part in the activities of supplying the needs of life. Then too, in many cases the parents are both away in the business world and the child, if not in school, is cared for by someone else. The second significant change is the introduction and common use of the automobile, radio, moving picture, and more recently the airplane has widened the horizon of both child and parent. The third influence is brought about by the scientific studies of experts in the field of psychology, sociology, and education.

"These experts in sociology, psychology, physical care and education are Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary as a closely related series of links and have come to feel the need of some better methods of care if we are to raise a race of young people to meet the 'changing civilization.'"

"We have found that real learning takes place when the learner is actively interested in the work before him. We have come to feel that the child's best preparation for future efficient self-controlled citizenship is to live an efficient and self-controlled life each day on the level where he is. The home, school, and the community must provide him with an opportunity to meet and to work out the problems that will tax his self control, his initiative, and his perseverance and lead on to higher levels. He really learns only what he does, habits come from repeated practice, and the habit that is best formed is accompanied by satisfaction." Miss Wood continued by giving aids and helps to remedy this condition and give a full description of the new regime school which consists of equipment similar to that used in kindergarten.

Grade School Pupils Give Play as Project

Franklin School Class Works Out Longfellow's Life

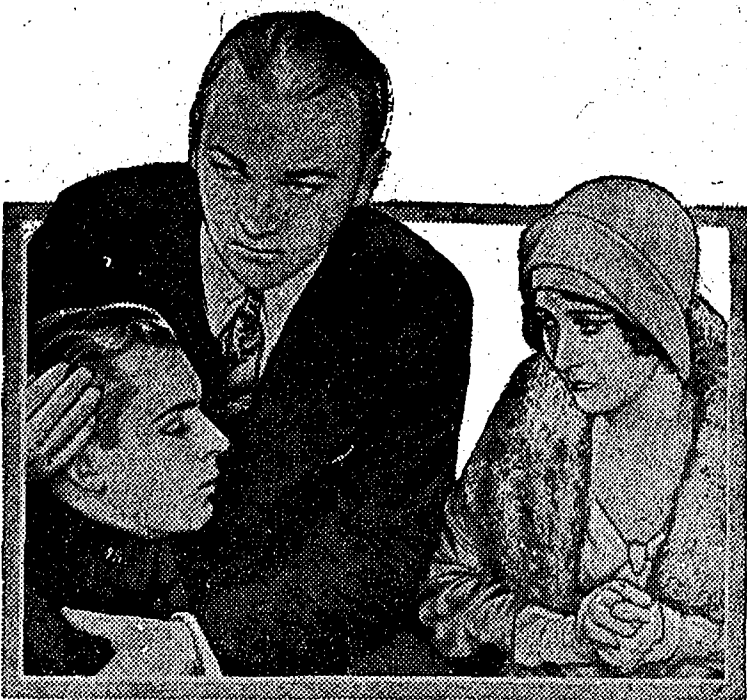

A small group of pupils from the eighth-B room of the Franklin School, gave a portion of the project that they had worked out on the life and works of Longfellow, before the members of the Social Studies class in the Conservatory, Wednesday, March 5.

Miss Agnes Walsh, room teacher, gave a short summary of the work covered during the five weeks spent on this subject. She explained that they had begun the study by first reading and absorbing all the knowledge that they could find concerning Longfellow. Miss Walsh said, "Not only did we read facts about his later life, but we tried to find little interesting details about his boyhood, his parents, and his family." After this, the pupils began a study of his works. To complete their room project, the pupils organized and produced a play for assembly.

Only a part of the program was presented to the University Students. Irene Scott, dressed in an Indian costume, told the story of "Hiawatha." Marie Valien as Pricilla, James Croft as John Alden, and Charles Olson as Miles Standish, dramatized a scene from "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Miss Katherine Mollaway, dressed to represent her character, told the story of "Evangeline."

The work is typical of the new type methods of project teaching.

Theater Section

Russell Gleason, William Boyd and Dorothy Sebastian in an amazing court room scene in the Pathé dialogue picture, "Officer O'Brien"

AT THE ORPHEUM

Rosita Moreno, famous Spanish dancer, tops the vaudeville bill opening Friday at the Orpheum. She returns to vaudeville this season from an engagement in the Broadway revue, "Pleasure Bound", where she was the featured dancer.

Appearing with her are 15 entertainers including her brother, Paco Moreno, also a noted dancer; Jose Moriche, renowned song star, and the Hernandez Tipica Porto Rican stringed orchestra.

On the talking screen, the popular star, William Boyd, is featured in a thrilling tale of the underworld called "Officer O'Brien."

AT THE STATE

Loretta Young, the "youngest tragedy queen of the silver sheet" according to one film critic, proves herself equally effective as a comedienne in "Loose Ankles," the new First National-Vitaphone all talker coming to the State Theatre for four days starting Wednesday, March 19.

Paired with Doug Fairbanks, Jr., in a novel love story between a gigolo and a girl who hires him to aid her in a lively, amusing struggle for a legacy, Miss Young sparkles in her comedy role. With her in the picture are such stars as Louise Fazenda, Ethel Wales, Ines Courtney, Daphne Pollard, Eddie Nugent and Norman Selby. Some new songs fresh off the pianos of First National's songsmiths will be featured, with Miss Courtney, the singing hit of the stage play "Good News" heading the cast of singers.

The greatest thriller ever shown on the screen is making a triumphant return as a spectacle with talking sequences, sound effect, singing and dancing. It is "The Phantom of the Opera" starring Lon Chaney with Mary Philbin and Norman Kerry, and will be shown at the State Theatre for three days only, starting Sunday, March 23. The world's wonder picture made even better as a sound picture, will no doubt repeat its record breaking showing.

AT THE PARAMOUNT

The praises of "The Vagabond King" by critics in New York and elsewhere are resounding throughout the country. The New York American wrote: "The Vagabond King," rich in color and melody, glorifies the screen. One of the most enthralling, throbbing, thrilling romances ever. Dennis King performs with fiery gusto. Jeanette MacDonald sings with as great charm as she possesses beauty. O. P. Heggie is superb. Paramount deserves a fine feather to ornament its production cap.—New York American.

"The most exquisite motion picture we've ever seen or heard is 'The Vagabond King,' which opened at the Criterion Theatre last Wednesday, starring Dennis King. We've seen beautiful pictures, thrilling pictures, tricky pictures, and unforgettable pictures, but 'The Vagabond King' is so far ahead of them that it isn't fair to mention them in the same paragraph. And, by the way, SEE IT—The Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

This tremendous, all-time-making, all-staying romance, called "The Monarch of the Movies," opens at the Paramount Theatre, Omaha, for one week starting Thursday, March 20th. New York, Philadelphia, and Palm Beach, Fla., paid $2.00 to see "The Vagabond King" and fifty other cities throughout the country are paying $1.00. A slight increase in prices will prevail at the Paramount.

By popular demand a Gala Special Midnight Preview of "The Vagabond King" will be given at the Paramount Theatre, Wednesday, March 19th, with all the gaiety of a New York and Hollywood Premiere. Be among the first to see "The Vagabond King"—The Picture of ALL time.

AT THE WORLD

"General Crack," which opens at the World Theatre, Friday, March 21, for an indefinite run, features John Barrymore and Marion Nixon.

The story portrays Barrymore as a knight of daring and chivalry. It is full of romance and excitement. This is Barrymore's first talkie and his voice is said to record perfectly. Miss Nixon will be remembered as Al Jolson's wife in "Say It With Songs." Her portrayal as the heroine of this story merits her the title of one of the screen's best character actresses.

All in all, "General Crack" well deserves the attention of theatre-loving public.

Others in the cast are: Lowell Sherman and Hobart Bosworth.

Second Moot Court To Try Arson Case

"Let 'er Burn" May Implicate Garageman Tweak

On March 22, 1930, at 7:30 P. M., at Joslyn Hall Library, the State will open its case against one Jardi Bean, arrested in connection with the burning of Weed Tweak's garage, 8407 North 30th Street, on the night of August 4, 1929. The case will be tried in the Moot Court of the University of Omaha. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this interesting trial.

Have Hot Words

Just prior to the time the garage burned, Mr. Bean and Mr. Tweak had entered into a controversy over a used tire and tube which the former had purchased.

Hot words followed, and finally Tweak drove Bean from the garage with an iron bar. However, he stuck his head back in, according to eye witnesses, and shouted:

"Every dog has his day. I can't fight you when you have an iron bar in your hand, but look out, I'll fix you. You will not have any more garage than a jack rabbit when I get through with you and your garage. I'll fix you plenty."

The same evening the Tweak garage burned. When Bean was apprised of the fire, he had the distinct odor of kerosene about his person, and eye witnesses state that there were stains on his shoes, hands and clothing.

A complicating angle in the matter is the fact that, according to the two men who discovered the flames and aroused Tweak, they came upon Tweak sitting at home fully dressed, listening to his radio. His shoes and the front of his overcoat were soaked in kerosene. When they told him that his garage was on fire, he said, according to their statement:

"Let 'er burn. She is insured."

Then he said:

"I'll bet this is Bean's work."

Bean is Arrested
He told the two men of Bean's threat, and it was then that they went to Bean's residence, and ascertained his oil-soaked condition. Bean was arrested, bound over, arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and gave bond.

Tweak's garage was insured for $3,000 and his stock and fixtures for $2,000.
